

The use of probiotics in horses following surgery and for the support of horses with stressful illness makes practical sense. The equine sourced bacteria in Equiotic makes medical sense for the horses under our care. The research literature backing Equiotic gives us scientific support for using this great product. We have had impressive results on the horses we have treated with this product.

Dr. Andris j. Kaneps

Andris J. Kaneps DVM, PhD

Diplomate, American College of Veterinary Surgeons

Diplomate, American College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation

